

There is no need to de-regulate the broadcast industry. A few monopolies such as Verizon will be able to take over all public information. It will limit the variety of information available and threaten our democracy. It will be the end of local news. The public has not asked for this, rich companies have.